PROGRAMME DETAILS

PROJECT FOR ASSESSMENT OF THE AVAILABILITY OF RAW MATERIAL (TIMBER) FOR WOOD BASED INDUSTRIAL (WBI) UNITS IN JHARKHAND

Background:

As per the direction of Hon Supreme court of India, a new "Guideline for the Wood Based Industries of India was notified in the official Gazette, dated 11/11/2016 and circulated by MOEFCC, GOI". This guideline prescribed a State Level Committee (SLC) comprises of different officials from GOI, GOJ and also an invited member from the association of WBI to administer the new license giving process for WBI in the State.

As per this guideline, one of the major responsibilities of the SLC is to assess the quantity of Raw material (timber) likely to be available for utilization of Wood Based Industries (different types) in Jharkhand, by commissioning a study.

The present SLC proposes that, the assessment of Raw material (timber) availability for the wood-based industries in Jharkhand state should be carried out by an independent institute/ university/ organisation of repute, under its direct supervision as prescribed in the present guideline.

Objectives:

1. To quantify such raw material that may be "sustainably harvested from the forest areas" as per the working plans/ working schemes/ management plans duly approved the competent authority.
2. To quantify such raw material that is available from the "Trees outside forest" areas, including the private plantation, agro-forestry plantation and plantation raised on non- forest government lands etc.
3. To quantify "Net inter-state import" of such timber into Jharkhand.
4. To quantify "Net international import" of such timber into Jharkhand (including and excluding its use in Special Imported Timber Conversion Zone)

5. Final assessment of timber availability for WBI in Jharkhand on basis of above four.

Methodology:

1. Review all the literature including guideline, Hon. Supreme Court orders CEC instructions etc, related to assessment of growing stock and wood based industries.
2. Collection and analysis of all working plan/ working schemes/management plans of notified forest areas to assess the timber available/ growing stock available for wood based industries (excluding demand of local dwellers for small woods/timber).
3. Collection and analysis of all the existing data/ information on the trees/ forest/ tree plantations etc., outside the notified forest areas.
4. Creation of new data base on the basis of random sampling/satellite imagery/GIS/ survey etc., to assess the amount of timber available from different sources for the WBI of Jharkhand on the Basis of established tools/ statistical methods.
5. Collection and analysis of the interstate transport of timber (produced in Jharkhand and other state) coming in and going out of Jharkhand from available data/ information from different sources, sample study etc., to assess the net interstate import of such timber into Jharkhand.
6. Collection and analysis of the data of international imported timber coming to Jharkhand through different ports and state borders and calculate net international import of timber to Jharkhand, including and excluding its use in Special Imported Timber Conversion Zone.
7. Tabulation and calculation the timber available from the above with sound statistical methods/ tools to give the final assessment of timber availability for the WBI in Jharkhand in CMT.

The steps of the study should consists of review of Working plan/ management plan of various division, growing stock/ harvesting data from forest management plan, State Forest Department studies/reports, Forest Survey of India studies, ICFRE studies, National Policies, State Policies, University studies, Statistics of Jharkhand forest department, State annual journal administration report., Stakeholder mapping and engagement, field data collection and survey, collation, analysis of data, report compilation.

It must involve Literature Review, Stakeholder mapping and engagement, Field data collection and survey, use of RS and GIS, Collation Analysis of data, Compilation of final report of study.

1. Assessment of Availability, Distribution and Yield of raw material from sustainably harvested wood from forest

It includes Literature review, Designing field assessment in all districts, Collection of data, Enumeration and measurement of trees through laying out sampling plots, reconnaissance and sampling survey on sampled plots in different forests shall be done using Satellite data of high resolutions with GIS tools.

Data related to assessment of growing stock and wood based industries. Collection and analysis of all working plan/ working schemes/ management plans of notified forest areas to assess the timber available / growing stock available for wood based industries (excluding demand of local dwellers for small woods/ timber),

It also include Creation of new data base on the basis of random sampling/satellite imagery/GIS/ survey etc., to assess the amount of timber available from different sources for the WBI of Jharkhand on the Basis of established tools/ statistical methods, Compilation of Data, collation and analysis.

2. Assessment of Availability, Distribution and Yield of raw material from Trees outside forest

This is comprised of Literature review, Designing field inventory in selected districts with study parameters, Inventory survey of raw material available within Industries, public and farmer's association/federation, Collection and analysis of all the existing data/ information on the trees/ forest/ tree plantations etc., outside the notified forest areas, Creation of new data base on the basis of random sampling/satellite imagery/GIS/ survey etc., to assess the amount of timber available from different sources for the WBI of Jharkhand on the Basis of established tools/ statistical methods.

Collection of data from FSI carrying out inventory at national level, State forest development corporation, Agriculture & Horticulture department or other concerned departments of Jharkhand Government, Compilation, collation and analysis of data so obtained.

3. Assessment on availability of raw material from net inter-state import to Jharkhand

For Collection and analysis of the interstate transport of timber (produced in Jharkhand and other state) coming in and going out of Jharkhand from available data/ information from different sources, sample study etc., to assess the net interstate import of such timber into Jharkhand, Literature review, Survey of processing and trading units, Data collection from various sources like Check Posts/ Wood Based Industries, Analysis and Report preparation shall be done.

4. Assessment of availability of raw material from net international import to Jharkhand

For Collection and analysis of the data of international imported timber coming to Jharkhand through different ports and state borders and calculate net international import of timber to Jharkhand, including and excluding its use in Special Imported Timber Conversion Zone Literature review, Survey of processing and trading units, Data collection from Check Posts/ Wood Based Industries, Analysis shall be done for final Report preparation.

Literature

This should be focused on diagnostic review of available literature such as Working plans/ management plans of various division, growing stock/ harvesting data from forest management plan, State Forest Department studies/reports, Forest Survey of India studies, ICFRE studies, National Policies, State Policies, University studies, Statistics of Jharkhand forest department, State annual journal administration report.

The focus would be on growing stock & proposed annual yield species wise. The secondary data may also be obtained available from Forest survey of India, Central & state department government/public resources/ industries/research papers etc.

Among other documents may include the policies of the state and central government, past studies done by research institutes, universities, non-government organisations, Forest Survey of India and the State Forest Department.

Stakeholder Mapping & Engagement

During this stage the project team will undertake stakeholder mapping an outreach activities to enlist the relevant stakeholders. The purpose of stakeholder mapping is to identify categorized and engaged relevant stakeholder in the assessment.

Stakeholder will be characterized as per the scope of work i.e. for assessment of tree outside forest will involve federation of farmers, growers, traders, and any other category that might be involved in production and Trade in Timber.

Stakeholder engagement will involve reaching out to map stakeholders, understanding their involvement and decision making on availability of raw material for wood based industries with in different categories as detailed in scope of work such as forest, tree outside forest, net interstate/ international import.

Field Data Collection and Survey

The strategy for field data collection should be focused on areas and point based sampling which will be selected randomly in each district/ division. The selection of sample area shall be decided based on the distribution density of wood based industries and selected point of entries into the state such as check post and in consultation with the Forest department Officials.

The use of variety of qualitative and quantitative method of data collection during the assessment to gather information about the objectives should be adopted.

The method of collection to be used will include questionnaires, structured interviews & focused group discussion and attempt shall also be made to get feedback from stakeholders about the validity of information gathered during the literature review.

All surveyed units for each scope of work shall be geo referred with hand held GPS. This activity will be followed with the physically visiting the units with a structured questionnaires.

The portion of material that is produced within the state verses material i.e. going out of Jharkhand from different sources to assess the net interstate or international import shall also be recorded.

Collation, Analysis of Data

Tabulation and calculation the Raw material (timber) available from the above with sound statistical methods/ tools to give the final assessment of timber availability for the WBI in Jharkhand in CMT.

This activity should consist of developing a data base of all the data. Data collected from activities performed during different stages of project will be compiled and projected in an easily retrievable format.

The data analysis shall be focused on following points- Growing stock available and annually harvested, all existing data, information on trees/forest/ tree plantation etc.,

Outside the notified forest area, Interstate transport of timber (Produced in Jharkhand and other states), Coming and going out of timber out of Jharkhand for net interstate import of such timber, International imported timber coming to Jharkhand through different port and State borders, Calculating net international import of timber to Jharkhand, Including and excluding its use in special imported timber conversion zone, Tabulation and calculation of the timber available from the above to give the final assessment of raw material (timber) availability for the WBI in Jharkhand.

Final assessment shall be based on analysis of data collected from sample sites and surveys through questionnaires.

The data shall also be analysed quantitatively and qualitatively from all relevant information collected as primary and secondary data. Data analysis shall be done to analyse Gap, Risk and SWOT.

Report Compilation and Submission

After analysing the results across the process and outcome, the report shall be prepared on the basis of the collected analysed data from detailed methodology covering the scope of work on assessment of availability of raw material for wood based industrial unit in Jharkhand.

Duration of Study:

SIX months, however, the duration may be reasonably extended depending upon circumstances mutually agreed by both the parties.

Project Team:

An Institution/ organisation or University of repute (in collaboration also), engaged in the forest related research, education and training can apply for this project.

The applicant should have enough trained manpower to take detailed field studies, surveys etc. The team shall include multidisciplinary specialist to enable study after consulting stake holders of wood based industries.
